

BLD72065/35036/35037/35038 WW-2 British landings at Westkapelle, november 1944

After the Allied failure at Market Garden, it became obvious that the port of Antwerp was crucial for Allied supplies. This meant that the Scheldt estuary was to be cleared from German troops, specially at the island of Walcheren. British troops, supported by armour of the 79th Armoured Division landed at Westkapelle and Vlissingen on november 1, 1944, facing a tough and bloody fight in harsh winter conditions on the flooded island.

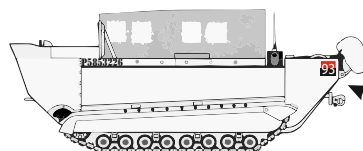

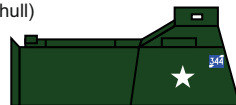

Please note that these drawings are not to scale and not fully accurate, but are only used to show decal placement. Many thanks go to Jakko Westerbeke, who wrote an excellent book about the armour used in this operation. His book is freely downloadable at <http://tankwrakken.westerbeke.name>
